Subject: Pool update please?

Hi Luis,

I've been in touch with all the vendors on your pool project over the last couple of weeks, and all would greatly appreciate an update. If it is being awarded to the "other firm," all we need is the firm name and award amount (you can sign in and do this yourself also – Select Award, and "Other", it takes about 2 minutes). That way all our folks that worked for you on this will at least be politely notified they were not the successful vendor.

I don't know if Marcos from Rosmel managed to speak with you, but he told me the reason he didn't show up was that he never got confirmation of place and time to meet with the Board for the presentations.

I know all of our vendors would do a good job for you, but were at various times thrown off by the changing engineering requirements. I know that if awarded though, all had told me at different points that they knew they would have to go somewhat beyond the scope to make sure this was done correctly – whether it was to assure that the concrete was done properly or that the detail of the material layups was done properly.

At your service,

John P. Garvin, MBA | Operations
